Drew Fustini

Drew Fustini, ambassador for RISC-V International, BayLibre, FR/USA

Biography

Drew Fustini is a Linux kernel developer at BayLibre and serves as an ambassador for RISC-V International. He sits on the board of directors for the BeagleBoard.org Foundation and the Open SourceHardware Association (OSHW). When not hacking on Linux, Drew enjoys designing open source hardware projects in KiCad that are fabricated in purple and gold by OSH Park.
